The trend of the global health and beauty care at present is the application of natural products. Thailand has advantages of abundant biological diversity with rich beneficial herbs and medicinal plants. Some have been researched and developed to products by the government sectors and universities. But, it is still not enough for the customer and trader' demands to have high quality and safe natural products for consumption and investment. One of the reasons is the lack of having standard private sectors which can have the services of researches and development on health and beauty from natural products.

Prof. Dr. Jiradej and Prof. Dr. Aranya Manosroi have collaborated with Mr. Supachai Supakatisan who is the managing director of Qualimed Company in Bangkok to set up the Manose Health and Beauty Research Center in Chiang Mai, Thailand, with many expertised and high experienced personnels. This company is the first private sector in Thailand managed by the Thai owners for international leader in research and development of natural products. This will certainly fulfill the customer and the trader' demands in the country, ASEAN and world wide.
